Played Poker and Prayed.
San Francisco Bulletin.
I have heard an elderly Hebrew gentleman who was very fond of card playing and particularly of poker. One night his luck was especially bad and he saw his money vanishing rapidly. So at every hand that was dealt him he would raise his eyes on high and pray:

"Please Lord, let me win!"
Then he would start in and lose a little more than before. He became so disgusted that he threw down his hand and left the room, exclaiming:

"I play me no more poker!"
The game went on with the remaining players and presently another man came in and took a hand. He wore a long black beard and hair to match and had most extraordinary luck. He won steadily and after he had secured about all the money that the others had he threw off the wig and beard, disclosing the features of the praying loser, and shouted gleefully:

"Aha, Lord! You didn't know me. Dot's de time I fool you!"

A Skeleton in Every Closet.
London Answers.
It is said that the expression, "There is a skeleton in every closet," arose from the following incident:

A young Italian student, finding that he was dying, fearing to break the news to his mother adopted the following device: He informed her that he was ill and that it had been retold he would not recover until he had worn a shirt made by a woman who had no trouble.

The widow soon discovered that it was no easy task to find such a person, but at length was referred to a lady who seemed surrounded with every comfort and happiness and possessing a husband who seemed devoted to her. The widow made known her request, and for an answer was shown a closet where a skeleton hung suspended from a beam.

She was told it was the remains of the lady's former lover, who from motives of jealousy, had been slain by her husband and that he compelled her to visit it every day.

The widow concluded that no one was without trouble, that "there was a skeleton in every closet," and became reconciled to the approaching loss of her son.

James Moore is explaining his woes to the court at Keytesville for his connection with a mule belonging to his employer, J. N. Gips-son. Moore took the mule to Macon and sold it. In consequence he is in deep trouble, which is likely to land him in the penitentiary.

Clark & Pott's sale of saddle and driving horses began Tuesday morning at Mexico. Prices ranged from $100 to $405, the last figures being paid C. H. McCullough of Howard county for Tip Top, a saddle and harness gelding. The other sales ranged closely around the $100.

The latest in marriage notices comes from the Cape City Spice Box: "Robert Brandy, of Jackson, and Ella Wilson, of Shawneetown were gently and nicely married in a quiet way, April 16th."

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that in most countries drugs are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless your physician knows of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Fitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fitcher is on every wrapper.
